SITES TO SEE

A. Williams Prayer Chapel
Sit and reflect on the mercies of God as you take in the beautiful 18th-century Gothic chapel, donated by faculty members Wilbur and Ardelia Williams. Its purpose is to offer a quiet place for prayer and meditation. Mrs. Williams created all nine stained glass windows. The main side windows represent unique Christian crosses from different nations and depict the blood that flowed from Christ's body to the earth.

B. The Sufferer

C. The Intercessor

D. The Potter
Pause to enjoy these bronze sculptures created by Rick Weinecke, a Christian, Israeli citizen. Rich with symbolism, the Sufferer depicts Jesus praying in the Garden of Gethsemane. The Intercessor illustrates the heart of IWU as a young man and woman quietly study as Jesus guides. The Potter symbolizes the fact that we are clay in the Potter's hand.

E. Student Center Mall
As you walk down the extraordinary mall of the Barnes Student Center lined with trees, overhead cross walks, and 44' glass roof, take in the Globe Theatre, McConn Coffee Company, and IWU Bookstore.

F. Art Galleries
Take in the exhibits from IWU's permanent collections located in Beard Arts Center. These include paintings and photos donated by our generous benefactors. Periodically, portions of these collections will be taken down to facilitate a visiting artist exhibition or senior student show.

G. Interactive Granite Globe
A 36-inch, polished black granite ball is the focal point of the rotunda in IWU's Lewis A. Jackson Library. The continents are etched by hand on the sphere to create a globe. The 1,800-pound ball, which was imported from China, floats and rotates on a stream of water.

H. Climbing Wall
Home of the Wildcats, the Recreation & Wellness Center was granted the Award of Honor for its outstanding design. It is the hub of IWU's intercollegiate and intramural athletic programs and includes four racquetball courts, a swimming pool, fitness and weight facilities, a 25' climbing wall, an elevated jogging track, and five basketball/volleyball courts.

I. John Wesley Statue
A 7-foot statue of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, stands at the center of campus as a reminder of the University's religious heritage. Scott Stearman of Colorado Springs, Colo., created the sculpture.

J. Society of World Changers
The Society was established by IWU Trustees to honor people who demonstrate their Christian faith through the quality of their work in a secular world. Inductees include Bob Briner, Frank Peretti, Dr. James C. Dobson, Dr. Benjamin Carson, Tony Dungy, Joni Eareckson Tada, Bill and Gloria Gaither, S. Truett Cathy, Kirk Cameron, David Green and Elizabeth Dole .

K. Ott Hall of Sciences and Nursing
The new Ott Hall of Sciences and Nursing honors Gary and Connie Ott for their generous support of the university's Health Sciences and Nursing initiatives. Gary Ott is President and CEO of TLC Management, Inc., a leading private provider of health and rehabilitation centers; assisted living and retirement centers; and hospice services. He is also a senior member of the IWU Board of Trustees. Connie assists with corporate and community support initiatives.

L. Chapel-Auditorium
The IWU Chapel-Auditorium seats 3,800 between the raked main floor and balcony. Dedicated into service on January 13, 2010, the 85,000-square-foot facility is used primarily for student chapel. It also serves as an important venue for special assemblies, convocation services, commencement ceremonies, special musical artists, and community events. This state-of-the-art facility includes such sustainability features as low-E glass, off-peak ice generation and storage for cooling, high efficiency lighting, and integrated energy management systems.
